TO MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

I present you herewith my new catalogue for 1923 of California field grown Dahlia bulbs. The fact that my collection, exhibited at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and various shows received the highest awards and certificates, is the best guarantee for my patrons. In buying from me, the public will receive the best on the market, absolutely true to name.

I wish to thank my patrons for past orders and can assure them of the best treatment in the future as in the past.

Visitors are always welcome at my farm, especially in blossom time, which is from June to November, when they can make their selections with much greater satisfaction from the flowering plants in the fields. My farm is located on Guttenberg Street, one block east of Mission. Take Number 14 or San Mateo cars.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANK D. PELICANO,

Dahlia Expert.

CULTURE OF THE DAHLIA

The Dahlia is one of the easiest of all flowers to grow and will produce more flowers than any other plant grown, if the simple cultural directions are followed closely. They can be grown in any good garden soil, but, if possible, plant in an open, sunny location. Prepare the soil thoroughly by digging 12 to 18 inches deep, in the fall, if possible, and again in the spring. Plant any time between April 1 and June 1, digging holes six inches deep and from three to four feet apart. Then lay in the tuber flat on its side, the size of which makes no difference as long as it has one strong eye, or sprout. Cover three inches deep, thus leaving the hole one-half full, to be filled after plant comes up to 6 or 3 inches above the ground. As soon as plant is large enough, cut out the top of it just above the second or third set of leaves, which causes the plant to grow a stout branch at the base of each of the four or six leaves left. Just as soon as the plants are up, the most important thing to do is to keep the soil loose and mellow by hoeing or cultivating once or twice a week, and just as soon after each rain as the soil will permit. As soon as the buds appear, stop all cultivation and give the beds a mulch of rotten manure, leaves, grass clippings, etc., and around the base of each plant place a shovelful of well-rotted manure, if possible. Water the beds and plants thoroughly once or twice a week and especially during the dry weather. It is hardly necessary to water the plants very much until the first part of July, unless we experience a dry season in June, or unless you have them planted in a narrow bed or single rows and the adjoining ground is not kept moist. To have the greatest success is to keep them growing, but as strong and sturdy as possible. Never allow the faded flowers to remain on the plant, but cut them off with as much stem or stalk as you can. Dahlias will continue to bloom until a heavy frost kills the tops in the fall, after which the tops are cut off and the roots are dug up and stored in a fr

PLEASE READ BEFORE ORDERING

Order Early.—Do not delay ordering until planting time, as many varieties will be sold out. As orders are received, stock will be reserved and sent at the proper time, or sooner, if requested.

Terms.—Cash with order by Money Order or Bank Draft. Stamps will be accepted for all orders amounting to $1.00 or less.

Shipping.—All orders taken at the Dahlia Shows and Gardens last fall and those received this spring will be sent the latter part of April, unless we are advised to send otherwise.

Our Guarantee.—We guarantee every bulb, root or plant sent out to be true to name and color, and also to be in growing condition when received, after which our responsibility ceases. Please notify at once if anything is unsatisfactory, when received, or any bulb or tuber does not start to grow after planted a reasonable time.

Substitution.—We never substitute unless asked to do so, in the order, but would suggest naming a few varieties as second choice.

Name and Address.—Be sure to write name and address very plainly in each letter and send same to the following address:

Decorative Dahlia-General Joffre

DECORATIVE DAHLIAS

This form is unquestionably the best type of the Dahlia for cut flower purposes, with possibly the exception of the show form—both of these types being quite compact, and therefore, possess keeping qualities far in excess of other types.

The true Decorative Dahlia has broad, rounded petals and should never show an open center. Nearly all of this type of Dahlia produce flowers of exceptional size and beauty, with splendid long stout stems. Several of this extraordinary fine collection are of our own introduction. They cannot fail to please the most critical.

	America—One of the best Dahlias for cutting in existence, lasting a week in water; salmon shading to yellow.
c	Amun. Ra.—A large Exhibition Decorative with gorgeous shades of copper and orange, shading to gold and amber, is a very attractive flower and a good keeper when cut for decorative purposes and are on perfect upright stems	1.00
c	Byron—One of the best decorative of its color; deep wine color; a very strong grower	. 75
c	Berceuse—Salmon, suffused with gold, on perfect stems; a prolific producer of flowers which are admirable for cutting
c	Carolyn Wintgen—An enormous decorative, each bloom averaging 8 to 10 inches across; salmon pink shading to rose; the blooms held erect on fine, long stems; a beautiful Dahlia for exhibition and good keeping qualities as a cut flower.	1.90

	 Choice—A pretty garden Dahlia and a good cut flower; amber shading to yellow; fine stem California Superba—A delicate shade of pink, shading to a white center; the blooms average 10 inches in diameter and is a fine keeper when cut for exhibition or garden purposes; the growth
c	and stem also are ideal	7.50 2.50
c	Darkeye—A large, flesh pink decorative; the blooms are first class for garden or exhibition purposes; fine stems.	.75
c	Delice—A pretty shell pink. Dr. Tevis—The largest and most beautiful decorative in cultivation, with long, strong stems; blooms average 9 to 11 inches across; color is a beautiful shade of salmon rose, suffused with old gold shading to a golden apricot; the largest Dahlia in existence for exhibition purposes
	EVA PELICANO (New 1922)
с	One of the best whites raised; very large flowers on long stiff stems, and are ideal for exhibition at the same time equally as good grown for garden decoration	2.00

c	W. E. Cooper—A fine variety for exhibition or garden; the well formed blooms of a beautiful pink, being produced on rigid stems.	7.50 c The largest and most beautiful of all decorative Dahlias. The coloring is absolutely unique, a soft salmon rose, suffused with old gold, which deepens to golden apricot towards the center. The flowers average from 9 to 11 inches in diameter, and are borne aloft on absolutely stiff, straight stems of great length. The center of this decorative is one of its strong points.

This Dahlia has attracted great attention whenever it has been exhibited, and many California growers have pronounced it the finest and most beautiful Dahlia they have ever seen. The plant is a vigorous and sturdy grower and a heavy producer of blossoms.

Decorative Dahlia-Dr. Tevis

"Dr. Tevis" started its first year as a prize winner when it captured the bronze medal as best seedling in 1915, at the Panama-Pacific International Exhibit. In 1916, it won the first prize for the best two-year-old seedling at the California Growers' Association at the Palace Hotel. Dr. Tevis continued its prize-winning record in 1917 by winning the gold medal for 25 blooms at the Dahlia Society of California Show at the Palace Hotel, and gold medal as the best three-year-old seedling at the St. Francis Hotel Show, and another gold medal for the best 25 blooms and gold medal for the best 6 blooms. At the Dahlia Society of California Show at the Palace Hotel in 1918, Dr. Tevis received first prize for best 25 blooms, and first prize for 12 blooms; also prize for best single dahlia in show.

At the Dahlia Society of California Show at the Palace Hotel in 1919, Dr. Tevis received the second prize for the best 50 blooms and second prize for the best 25 blooms.

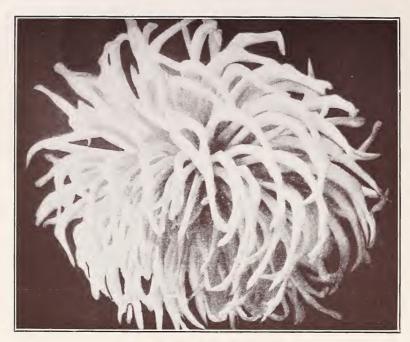

Dr. Tevis was awarded the first prize for the best dahlia in the amateur class grown by Mr. A. Simpson.

But its biggest triumph was 1917, in the winning of first prize at the Dahlia Society's trial gardens at San Rafael. Dr. Tevis won this honor in a competition of nearly 50 other dahlias.

Dr. Tevis was awarded the first prize for the largest and best flower in the show held by the Park-Presidio Dahlia Society, August 25, 1920.

Cactus Dahlia-Edith Carter

CACTUS VARIETIES OF DAHLIAS

The true "Cactus" form or type of Dahlia is that which has the long, sharp-pointed, quilled petal, and was until recently more to be desired than any other type of Dahlia. While the new Peony and Decorative types are rapidly gaining in popular esteem, the Cactus type, because of its elegant form and its richness and diversity of coloring, will still continue to be the favorite with many of our customers. Cactus varieties are, as a rule, very free in bloom.

c	Arthur Twitchett—An American Cactus; white shading to blush; one of the best Cactus we have yet offered and it is no exaggeration when we describe it as a giant flower on a perfect upright stem	$2.50 c	Ballet Girl—White shading to orange; sometimes the blooms come solid orange. This is one of the best Cactus of true English type raised in America. The plant is a great bloom producer and a first class variety for exhibition purposes.	2.50
	Bcloit—Rich purple, garnet; very large flowers, borne on a long stem	. 50
c	California Enchantress—Hybrid Cactus; delightful shade of pink, with splendid stem: very strong and a free bloomer and a good keeper.	2.00
	Colibri—Purple, rose; edge white.	.35
c	Daddy Butler—An attractive shade of the American Beauty Rose shades or rose carmine; this variety has a fine erect habit.	4.00
c	Eagle—A hybrid cactus; sulphur yellow; the florets slightly reflex on long, upright stems	1.00
	Edith Carter—Grand variety; yellow and tipped carmine	. 35
	Emblem—Deep primrose, tipped rose pink; large exhibition size	. 35
	E. F. Hawes—One of the best pink cactus in cultivation.	. 50
e	Empire—American Cactus. This is a fine addition to this type; the color is the shade of raspberry, a very deep and full flower; the blooms are large and of the finest quality and the stems are erect	4.00
	F. W. Fellows—The best orange cactus grown; the blooms are very large and deep; the best for exhibition.	. 75
c	Gcorge Walters—A prize winner; this is a monster hybrid cactus of lovely coloring; pinkish salmon, shading to a yellow base. The blossom is freely produced on long stems; the flower has petals of great substance, and is good for any purpose. One of the best Dahlias in existence	. 75
c	Golden West—Golden yellow, suffused bronze; California variety	. 50
	Gee-Whiz—A large, soft buff, shading to salmon, with perfect long stems; an exhibition variety	2.50

Peony Dahlia-Geisha

NOVELTY PEONY DAHLIAS OF MERIT

Although this type of the Dahlia family was originated in Holland only a few years ago, it has become extremely popular and bids fair to outrival the Cactus type in this respect. They are of immense size and have from 2 to 5 rows of long, broad petals, which are generally eurled and twisted, giving the appearance in form of a semi-double Chinese Peony, hence their name. They are the finest bloomers and are unequaled for a continuous display in the garden.

c	Azalea—A graceful flower; soft salmon, shading to old rose, on long, upright stems; a good all-round Dahlia; was admired at the Dahlia shows last season; a California novelty	$0.75
	Artic—The largest white Peony in cultivation; an ideal exhibition variety; one of the best in its class
	Cream King—A large, creamy yellow; fine for exhibition purposes

NOVELTY PEONY DAHLIAS OF MERIT—Continued Geisha—The most popular of the Peonies; a stunner; in red and gold; greatly prized for cutting and exhibiting. $0.50 Meyerbeer—Purple, lined crimson; the largest Peony in cultivation..... c Gorgeous-Yellow, shading to bright scarlet. This variety was one of the most admired at the Dahlia Show; it has fine erect stems, producing flowers of gigantic size. This is the largest Peony in cultivation. 3 50 c Rising Beauty—A wonderful Dahlia of great size, borne on long stiff stems, and very prolific; petals long and flat; color is a brilliant cherry red with tips and outer edge of petals a beautiful gold. This variety has attracted a great deal of admiration wherever it has been exhibited; also has a record as a prize winner.... 1.50 COLLARETTE DAHLIAS Collarette Dahlias are similar in size to the Single Dahlia, but have a row of shorter petals, forming a collar around the yellow disc. They are very bright and pretty. Amateur Chavanet—A bright flame with a collar of lighter tint. $0.50 Mme. Gygax—Yellow, splashed red; primrose collar.... c Mrs. John Gallwey—A very large creamy yellow flower, on long stems and straight; the most attractive of its kind; it produces blooms larger than the famous Geant de Lyon, which was considered the largest Collarette in cultivation; as for a cut flower, there is nothing better; good keeping qualities; one of the lest for exhibition; it has every quality a Dahlia calls for; a 1.00 SINGLE DAHLIAS Union Jack—White, striped red; a very attractive Dahlia in the garden: fine for cut flower purposes SHOW AND FANCY DAHLIAS These are the old-fashioned quilled, double flowers and still hold a warm place in the hearts of many people. Maude Adams—A pure snowy white, overlaid clear delicate pink; a good show type $0.50 Mrs. Saunders—Yellow, with white tips.... Slocombe White—White, very deep and full..... . 75 Yuban—An improved Gold Medal, only larger; fine form....

Golden Glow

A majestic flower on long upright stem, an ideal Dahlia for exhibition purposes. Color apricot shading to amber.
